Saturday, April 29, 1893.

A Strange Accident. "The strangest accident that ever fell within my observation," said Harold Chapman to a friend in the Lindell, "occurred at my home in Medicine Lodge, Kan. One day in May, 1889, I was driven into the house by a thunder shower. The rain moderated in a few minutes, however, and I took a chair and sat out on the porch. My youngest boy was playing with a tin cup, catching water from the rain pipe and pouring it along a rut in the floor. The water ran along this rut out onto the cistern platform. While he was stooping to fill the cup from the rain pipe a flash of lightning came, seemingly attracted by the iron cistern pump. The current leaped from the pump to the current of water that ran along the porch and flashed along its course to the end.

"As providence, accident, ill luck or something else would have it our Thomas cat had come out from the kitchen and was standing close to the wet gutter made by pouring of the water. The cat received the full benefit of the flash, and lay scorched and dead in an instant. Now I saw that flash distinctly, and saw it travel from the iron pump along that gutter to the cat. If my boy had been there the result would have been the same. If he had not, why I suppose it would have been attracted toward one of us and serious results might have followed. I slightly imagine that I owe my life to that cat's ill fate. I am much obliged to the cut."-St. Louis Globe-

The Endowment of Daughters.

appears to be now seriously discussed in mill are about twenty of the little wooddifferent parts of the country. This en box houses need by the fishermen. arises partly out of a growing sense of On one of the coldest evenings the fishjustice, which, the philosophers say, is ermen were saugly ensconced in their the last sentiment to be developed in the little houses, with warm fires, pipes hit. case of women, and partly out of the and lines hanging down through holes in commercial exigencies which in the last the ice for the benefit of the smells. twenty years have left stranded so many It had been so cold that the water next women with no means of livelihood. the tide raill had frozen tolid, so that The endowment of daughters would ac- when the miller hoisted his gute the complish several end" It would enable water, justead of taking its accustomed them to marry the tien of their choice, | channel, ran out on top of the ice to a it would support them if they do not depth of about six inches. The fleed marry, and in case of commercial disas | was upon the fishermen before they were ter would furnish at least temperary aware of its cause. At once there was provision for the family. The matter a panic. They left their warm houses has progressed until the methods of en- and rushed leadlong for the bank. Soon dowinents in different countries are un- one of them, a genius, hirched a rope to the passing of the Roman dowry into and in a twinkling the small village France after the conquest of Gaul that vanished. When the water subsided has made of France the richest and most | they returned.—Portland (Me.) Press. prosperous of nations. It is unlikely, wever, desirable as it might be, that the fragality and self denial the humblest Frenchman practices to by aside tralia, is here. From Montreal be goes his daughter's dowry will appeal to a to Topeka. Kan,, and from that point he nation accustomed to easy living and as will reconnoiter the southwestern

A Japanese Editor.

Editors may find some consolation in the fact that they have inspired feelings of envy in the bresses of a young Japa-Adams today, "I am confident," he conness boy. A recent issue of an East Intimed, "that they will thrive in the dian paper contained the following note: "A schoolboy in Lorrabaya was asked ican bison multiplied to such enormous to describe an editor of a paper. He did herds. I am told that the climate is so in this way: 'An editor is the inchiest | similar to that of New South Wales, but man in the world. He can go to a cir- I shall soon know the truth for myself without paying a cent. He can go also west, and before the end of next sumto the court houses, the places of execu- mer I expect to make my first importation and the races.

"He has free tickets to all theaters, re | cago Tribune. ceives presents at his office, and gets his ears boxed too. He goes also to Prigen. Malang or Lawang (places of amuse-ment). He does not do this often, however. In one paper he can deny everything that was said in the previous one, and he does so as a rule. When other curred about seven years ago. Her body people are already in bed, the editor is still up. He stays up late to see what Last September his father died and was happens. When I grow big I shall be also buried in the same cemetery. A

A Sermon Exchange.

The latest enterprise which we hear announced in the young and enterprising west is the "Sermon exchange," Chicago: According to popular belief the practice of clergymen has been to write sermons until they had filled a barrel. Then the barrel would be turned upside down and the sermons all preached over again. Where a minister remained in a church a great many years the congregation would after awhile begin to know when the barrel was turned.

Some sermons were looked forward to with much interest and others with more house, and when the keeper came on the is to do away with all of this It is no was empty. On looking closer the keepa second time. The preacher can take an old sermou and tie twenty-five cents to it. This he sends to the exchange and receives one written by some one else by return mail, or if he has no sermon to send he can get one for fifty cents. -Bal-

Long Island Indians.

There was a time when many of the Shinnecocks shared in the occupations of the white people and acquitted themselves with great credit. I allude to the whaling period in Southampton history, The Shinnecock at sen, whether pure blood or half breed, made an exact sailor. The discipline of the forecastle was good for him, at least so long as he was affoat. Many of them got to be mates, and one of nodded to the passengers on the tog. became a captain. This distinguished sailor man was not a pure bred Indian. all right and that the rest of the crowd but was part negro, and probably had a would seen be along. In his good na-small though potential quantity of white ture and familiarity he took a sent on blood. This was Captain Lee, and any the rail and was soon made a prisoner, one down toward Southampton or Sag Eastern (Mc.) Argus. Harbor can tell of his giant stature and immense strength. This Captain Les was the son of a still more famous man, Parson Lee. - John G. Speed in Harper's Weekly.

"Wodjer black Joey's heye fur arter he'd denied as he'd said them things about yer?" "Denied it? Not 'im! Why I ses to 'im, 'Joerge ses you've bin corl-ing me a blackleg.' And he up and ses, 'I re-pudiate the statement.' And then I blacks 'is eye. I might ha' stood the cove's sayin of it once-but w'en he goes an re-pudiates it!"-

-London Public Opinion. A fast penman will write at the rate of thirty words a minute, which menus that in an hour's steady writing he has drawn his pen along a space of 200 yards. The Chinese women, who have course, Republican Reorganization.

There has been some talk since the result of the late presidential election became known concerning the necessity for a reorganization of the Republican party. Just what is meant by reorganization is not clear. If it is only proposed that changes shall be made in the method of conducting political campaigns in order to secure a better canvass and more accurate information as to the political affiliations or preferences of electors; to bring those who are temperarily charged with the management of the campaign and the party leaders into touch with the masses, and to provide a more effective means for reaching the individual voter, no one will question the necessity. If, again, by the reorganization of the Republican party is meant the abandonment of those principles of the party which are supposed to have met with popular disapproval, such a reorganization is impossible. It would involve a final dissolution of the party. Any party which can adopt new principles to meet every chance emergency, and which has no higher aim than publie plunder, is not worthy to receive, and cannot hope long to retain, the support of that portion of the country without which no party can succeed. It has been gravely suggested that the Republican party should seek success by an abandonment or a modification of its position upon the tariff, by the adoption of some modified financial proposition which would satisfy a supposed popular de-mand, or by a formal declaration against federal control of federal elections. The Republican party must look for success in the triumph of its principles, and not by trimming its sails to catch every popular breeze.-Senator Dolph in North American Review.

Smelt Fishermen's Luck-

There was quite a panis among the smelt fishermen of Strondwater the oth-The propriety of endowing daughters er evening. On the ico below the tide his house and dragged it ashore. In a According to Sir Henry Maine it was few minutes all had adopted the plan,

To Breed Kangarnes in America-Henry G. Adams, of Sydney, Ausimpatient for swift results as this.—New Prairies with a view of purchasing large York Evening Sun. outside of a cage on this continent-the kanggaroe

"The kangurco is to take the place or same latitude as that in which the Amerning I will spend the winter in the tion of kangaroos,"-Montreal Cor. Chi-

A Strange Story.

Bloomdale has been the scene of a very strange occurrence. Daniel Mope, living at that place, was thirteen months old when his mother died, which ocwas interred in a cemetery near there. come an editor. Then I can stay up few weeks ago the grandparents of the child had his mother taken up to remove her to the same lot with her husband in the cemetery. On opening the casket their eyes witnessed the same features as well preserved as when placed in the grave. The news was at once sent to the grandmother, where the boy resided. She took the little one to the cemetery where he saw his mother for the first time in his recollection. -- Cor. Boston Journal.

> Ribercating in Captivity. The new cianamon bear at Manhattan Beach is out of sight. He was chained ground Wednesday morning the cage er saw some fresh earth at the end of the cage. He investigated and found a big hole under the animal bouse, which the bear had dug during the night and crawled into. He staid there all day and is apparently saleep. He refuses to come out under any provocation, and will not eat. The keeper thinks he is hibernating, and will probably stay in his hole until next summer. - Denver Republican

A Butterfly Ten Miles Out at Sea. Charles Hawkins succeeded in capturing a handsome butterfly Sunday afternoon on board the tug that went out to meet the Numidian. The genial, light winged messenger from a very distant clime, no doubt, hove in sight and sort

After He Got Back. Back of the merry bells there is occasionally a young man with icy feet and benumbed hands who is learning that a five dollar ride behind a three dollar horse is not necessarily fascinating.-Philadelphia Ledger.

An Important Question. On the night of the big Twenty-third street fire Dr. Buddington, anxious to get home and not knowing any reason why he should not do so, pushed his way through the crowd. A policeman ordered him back, and on his failing at once to obey knocked him down. Buddington, under the influence of the stinging blows, struck the policeman and was at once handcuffed and taken to the station house. The question which suggests itself is, How long must an orderly and law abiding citizen stand

WIND WINDS A CLOCK.

An Ingenious Contrivance of an Inventor The Garre de Nord, Brussels, has been fitted with a mechanical wonder in the shape of a clock, which, although constantly exposed to all kinds of weather, nover gets out of repair, nor does it need to be wound by the hand of man. It is a perpetual timekeeper of the most unique and original design, the running weight being kept in constant motion either through the influence of gravitation, as gone. when on the descending trip, or by the wind's action on a fan attachment which causes the weight to rise to a level with the top of the framework. The winding attachment is not a windmill of the regulation type, but is a fan placed in a common chimney, the paddles being acted upon by the natural "up cast" or

As soon as this fan has raised the "running weight" to its extreme height. the cord to which the weight is attached acts on a wheel which throws a brake into gear, and the more rounds of cord that are added, so much more strongly does the brake act to prevent the weight from rising any higher, the checking tendency being transmitted to the fan wheel with every revolution.

A simple pawl arrangement prevents the down draft from exerting any contrary influence on the fan wheel. There is not, as one might suppose on first thought, any necessity of having a fire in the stove or fireplace of the chimney to which this odd clock is attached. The natural tendency of air is to ascend through such vents, the druft thus created being always sufficient for weight winding purposes. The clock might be placed at the top of a hellow tree with a bottom opening, or any other cylinder from fifteen to twenty-live feet in height. With its present attachments this clock runs but twenty-four hours after the winding fan stops, but by the addition of another wheel or two, might be made to rang menth or two even though the up draft were not sufficiently strong to turn the winding wheel in the mountime. The inventor is a native of Bulgium.-St. Louis Republic.

Said a brilliant woman, whom not one of the refined cotorie who heard her bound of calling "immoral" "Atcighteen I married, of my own fooliah will, a man of fifty, who adored me. At twenty waste my full young life-the only life I could know the side of the grave- in se monatrons a union. He was a good man, and accurding to his lights, a model husband. I could not but respect him. but we had not one emotion in country We were wholly hecontratible in feeling sentiment, to makure. Upon this green and this alone, I obtained a divorce.

Terratively entiremental verbings and this woman's cost stands thus: Her has band's bloss and tauxes were not, to her apprehension, favorable to the develop ment of what she statched as the lishe ought to lead. Her individual happiness cutranked all other considers tions in her miral. The marriage yow. uttered of her own free will, because she then fancial that the was forwarding her selfish interests by the union, bay came a rope of sand when inclination veered to another quarter .- Marion Harhand in Harper's Bauer.

A Prize Entity Wor. A set of topens were curousing in the number spring to his feet and showed:

"I'll give ten buttles of wine to the man who shall most closely imitate the voice of any animal." The offer was accepted, and there was a neighing, a croaking, a grunting, a quacking a bowling and a growling fit to deafen the hearers. The last man then stood in the ring, and-did nothing. After five minutes allence he perceived that his companions were growing impatient, when he quietly remarked: "There, gentlemen, that was the voice of a fish!

General bilarity He won the wine -Kalender.

Prosperous Negroes.

When the war closed there were about 600 negroes owned by the Creek Indians. When they were free the Indians attempted to drive them out of the territory. The government wouldn't permit it, but made them citizens of the Crock nation and clothed them with all the rights and privileges of a full blood.

The Indians were compelled to accept this state of affairs. For awhile they badly treated their black skinned broth ers, heaping all sorts of indignities upthem, which were borne with patien fortitude. When the lands were divided the government gave them a pro rati share. They have increased in popul tion, now numbering about 2,000, raises respectable families and are doing well -New York Advertiser.

The Origin of an Expression, Mr. McElroy tells this: A few year ago some one defined a Mugwump to b "a person who is educated beyond hi intellect." The remark was credited t several leading New Yorkers. But one day, in reading Matthew Arnold's essay "On Translating Homer" I came acrothis sentence. "The late Duke of Wellington said of a certain peer that " was a great pity his education had been so far too much for hisabilities."-New Looking for Gold. Mr. R. T. Imbrie, of Washington coun ty. Or., found a piece of pure gold about the size of a pen to the ginzard of one of his chickens. He is now on a still hunt for the feeding grounds of that particufar chicken, and is thinking of assaying the entire barnyard company.-New Uncle Sam's Japanese Indians. A tree was felled by a storm here recently, and beneath the roots that were turned up were found Japanese cooking utensils and a hammer and club, both corresponding to such as are used by the Japanese. The rings on the tree were counted after the tree was cut in two. and 300 rings proved the tree to be as many years old, clearly showing that the Japanese were here or pointing to the Siwash Indians as of Japanese origin. -Vancouver Cor. St. Paul Pioneer Press.

The horse and cattle industries of southeastern Oregon are reported to be in a depressed condition, and many ranchers are dropping both and turning to sheep raising.

The oldest bishop of the Established hard hair, though beautiful, use a curis being clubbed by a policeman before he ous mixture of honey and flour twoleanse has a right to defend himself?—New fine old gentleman, still strong and He is a good skater himself.—New York church, Dr. Durnford, has just cele- cently bought 100 pairs of skates for the

MILKING A MOOSE.

A PENOBSCOT GUIDE'S STORY OF ANOTHER TRUTHFUL GUIDE.

"Dairyman Annance," of Moosehead, Managed to Secure Something for His Sportsmen to I rink Besides the Cold. Murky Water of the Lake. "Here's a pretty ness! The milk is all

The speaker was one of a party of four New York sportumen who, with an equal number of guides, had been ernising about on the west branch of the Penobscot, but were now camping on the shores of Chamberlain lake, preparatory to returning to North East Carry. They had been out longer than they had planned, and some of the supplies had become exhausted. Then turning to the guides, who were dress lying at full length on the ground quietly enjoying the young blood's discom-fiture, he asks, "Isn't there a farmhouse or hotel near where we could buy some?"

"Depends on what you call near," replied a woodsman. "If you don't reckon forty miles far, then we are near a house, but that's about the distance-maybe a triflo more. You want milk powerful bad, don't you? Well, you fill up on water tonight and maybe in the morning I can accommodate you, though, mind you,

'You'll have to get a move on you," said one of the other guides, "if you are Richard Nichel. going to try to make the Carry 'tween tins and temorrow"-well knowing that the journey in that time was impossible -"for blast me. Annance, if I know where you're going to find the color of milk nearer than that."

Annance made no response, but puffed silently at his favorite pipe. He had an idea, though, that he could get some milk, but did not mean to tell how.

That night, unnoticed, he left the camp about susset, walked slowly through the woods for about a mile, and again came out on the share of the lake al a point where a small stream formed

This was near the place where he had ins position beside a trail leading to the water's edge, and along which he could not deceive him, that the monse was in the habit of posting.

In this he was correct, for the guide when he board the sound of some infinial approaching, and peering carniously through the bushes he may a cow moose making for the post. The annual sulffed the nir a few times as she possed within a dozon paces of the hunter, but otherwise she did not show signs of alerm. Else was soon in the water ridding herself of the flies and quenching her thirst. White the moons was disporting herself Annuace left his position behind the bush and walked a few steps toward her, and whenever she turned he would stand perfectly motionless. By repeating this operation several imes, he managed to reach the edge of the lake without alarming the moose. As soon as the animal showed any signs of leaving the water, the guide retreated a few steps. Once or twice did the mouse raise her head and look at him, only, however, to resume her claimsy

Old Boar, and relieved the monotony by cracking joles and telling furmy stories.

After an interval of rest one of their the take the animal turned to take a last look and shake the spray from her nose. Then she advanced slowly up the sloping bank. When opposite the guid she sniffed something, stopped and looked

That was the guide's chance, and he

The critical moment had arrived, and with one quick but silent movement he was by the animal's side. She did not move except to turn her head and look at him. Annunce kept near her hind quarters, well knowing that if he got in front of the moose he would not stand much chance should she become ugly. Cautiously bending forward the hunter stroked her sides and allowed her to turn and smell of him. After a few seconds. seeing the moose did not appear frightenel, Annance, with little more difficulty than is experienced with many domestic animals, proceeded to fill a small pail he had brought along with rich, yel-Returning to camp, he produced the nill: when breakfast was ready in the morning having kept the pail in the water over night, much to the astonishment of the guides and sportsmen. People who visit Moosehead often hear Charles Annance spoken of as the dairyman," and the foregoing story is what gives him the nickname.-Lowiston Journal.

Almost Like Jonah.

"I've had some experience myself," said an old sailor, "but two years ago I came the nearest taking after Jonah that a man ever did. We had made a strike all right and the whale went down, not very far, but when he came up he had his mouth open, and somehow or other he came up with one jaw on the port and the other on the lee side of our boat. Surprised? Well, that whale looked very much as if he was ready to receive company, but I wasn't invited, so I made a streak for another boat."-San Francisco

At a recent sale in Paris two autograph scores of Offenbach were sold at arty dollars, and that of "Le Prophete" of Meyerbeer at thirty dollars.

Recent Mortality Among Dukes. The mortality among dukes, comparing their limited numbers to the immense concourse of untitled folk, has results.-Century. been exceptional during the last two years. The Duke of Marlborough makes the ninth who has died in that period. it must be remembered that, excluding royal titles, there are only twenty-seven dukes in the United Kingdom altogether. Therefore in two years or a little more one-third of the holders of dukedoms have died, while two of the titles-Buckingham and Cleveland-have become extinct,-London Tit-Bits.

A $300,000 Skuting Pond. One of this city's richest men, John D. Rockefeller, the Standard oil king, is so fond of the outdoor sport of skating that he has a private stating rink on his property near his residence. The pond is on a vacant lot, 50 by 90 feet, next door to the millionaire's Fifth avenue residence, near Fifty-fourth street. The lots on which the pond is located are valued at $300,000. Mr. Rockefeller reNEW YORK'S POSTAL BERVICE.

Interesting Pacts About the Growth of the Delivery System.

The fair of the postoffice employees was an incentive to resuscitate and revivify. every postal article obtainable that was quaint, ancient, and antique, even to an exhibit of a picture of the building used for the first postoffice. In connection with this might have been mentioned the fact that it was in 1623, nine years after the construction of the first fort at the southern end of Manhattan Island, that the first postoffice saw its beginning Previous to this, musters of vessels bringing letters from domestic and forleft them at a coffee house, where the merchants, the burghers and the loungers met to discuss the topics of the day. Here the letters were deposited in a rack, where they might be obtained by the persons to whom they were ad-

In 1660, when New Amsterdam consisted of straggling groups of one story extended no farther north than Wall street, there was the town winding near the Battery, and the government house stood in Water street, near Whitehall. It was in this year that the letter carrier first appeared—the lounger who carried the mail to the merchant or burgher. It was not until 1692, however, that the first city postofiice was established, near Bowling green, the postmaster being

In 1710 the British postmaster general established the general postoffice in this by vessels should be sent there. A year later post routes between New York and Boston and New York and Albany were established, and the mails were carried on horseback twice a month. In 1740 a similar route was established between New York and Philadelphia.

In 1753 Benjamin Franklin was appointed postmaster general of the colonies, Alexander Colden soon afterward succeeded Richard Nichel as postnuster of the city, which office he held until the beginning of the Revolution, when the postoffice was abolished by the seen the cow mosse, and here he took up | British officials and remained closed for Seven years.

William Bedlow, after whom Bedlow's see, if his knowledge of wenderaft did island was named, was the first postmester appointed after the war, and in 1786 he was succeeded by Schastian Barnum, at which time the postal revenue had not been there more than an hour | was $3,780, and the city directory contained 936 manes only .- New York Tribthoughte bay something.

Among other anecdotes of university life Dean Hole tells of an occasion when there was some doubt as to the locality of a city mentioned in a Greek text, and the lecturer addressed a youth who had just come up from the famous Shrowsbury school. Now, Mr. Bentley, you are a pupil of our most gauge upher. Dr. But-Icr. the Atlas of our age, who carries the world not on his shoulders, but in his bead, and you can probably enlighten as as to the position of this nucleat town." "I believe, sir." was the prompt reply, "that modern travelers are of the opin ion that the city ought to be placed about ten miles to the coutheast of the spot it now occupies on our map."

After receiving respectful thanks for his information, the informer told Dean Hole as they left the lecture room that he had never hourd of the venerable city before, but that for the honor of Shrewsbury and the repulation of Dr. Butler ie felf binnself bound to may something

Mr. Bensent's Cubinet of Minerals. The largest and richest private cabinet of minerals in America is said to be that of Mr. Clarence L. Bement, of Philadelphia. His collection fills nearly a whole floor of his large house, which is lighted with special reference to seeing his treasures to advantage, and none of the pubhe museums have specimens of a size, beauty and perfection to surpass those that he has been patiently gathering for the past twenty years or more. The leading dealers in this country have standing orders to send him the best of what comes to them, and they willingly do so, for he is prompt and liberal in his payments, being a gentleman not only of of cuthusiam, but of ample fortune. A Paper for the Miner! What he does not take is sent to the British museum as the second best buyer. While it is difficult to set a price on a scientific collection, it is said by those who should know that Mr. Bement's cabinet is worth at least $125,000. - New

The Old Way. Mr. Halloran, an up river pilot of colebrity, who was studying the lower Mississippi river, told me that he remembered when it was the custom for the mates to hit lazy negroes on the head with a billet of wood "and knock them stiff." The other negroes used to laugh. presumably as the sad faced man laughed when the photographer clapped a pistol to his head and said, "Smile, or I'll shoot you." When the felled negro came to the others would say, "Lep up quick an git to work, nigger; de mate's a-coming." They do not urge the help with cordwood now-so the mate of the Providence told me-because the negroes get out warrants and delay the boat .- Ju lian Ralph in Harper's.

York Sun.

No Longer an Experiment. The kindergarten is no longer an experiment. It is not now on the defensive, either on its educational or on its philanthropic side. It is rather for those who ignorantly oppose the kindergarten to show cause for their opposition in the face of the almost unanimous approval of experts and the enthusiastic indorsement of all that part of the general public who have had the opportunity of be- of any weekly paper in the Territory, coming familiar with its methods and Invention Succeeds Invention. The new book and eye that are pe and is consequently the best adverculiar because the hook has a hump in it have been succeeded by a book that is peculiar for two humps between which the eye is held in place. Thus rapidly does invention succeed invention in this tising medium. land of novelties.-New York Sun.

Mrs, Faugle-Have you secured a lodger for your second floor yet, Mr. Goslin?

Goslin (horrifled)-I haven't been looking for a lodger, madam. Mrs. Faugle-Why, I'm certain my husband told me you had rooms to let in your upper story.—Exchange.

Not So Much Spare Money. The reason why there is less speculation in mining stocks in Wall street than there was formerly is not because there is less gold and silver mined west of the Mississippi, but because there is less unemployed cash east of that river.—New York Sun.

E. F. KELLNER.

J. W. RANSOM. F. KELLNER & CO.,

JOBBERS AND DEALERS IN

General Merchandise.

eign ports brought them on shore and Proprietors Pinal Creek Steam Saw Mills and Pihal Creek Toll Road.

houses with peaked roofs and gable ends Correspondents in New York City and San Franciscos We have ample facilities for the > Acting as financial Agents for same, making yearly contract for supplies &c.

We will not be Undersold by Anybody or in any one city and ordered that all mails coming Article and our Stock is the Largest in Cila County. E. F. KELLNER & CO.

SALOON

THE ARIZONA

图 图 图 图

Billiard Parlors,

MAIN STREET, GLOBE,

....AND....

WM. T. MCNELLY.

PROPRIETOR.

The Leading Paper of Finest of Imported and Domestis Wines, Laquiers and Cigars. First-Class Club Room Attached,

Two of the celebrated Brougewick & Belly BILLIARD AND FOOL TABLES

Aff The Nestest Resert for Contiemen in

BREMEN'S

Lumber Yard

Gila County.

Globe, A. T.

A l'aper for the farmer!

A Paper for Everybody!

The best Quality of A Paper for the Mechanie!

PINE LUMBER,

Mill 7 imbers

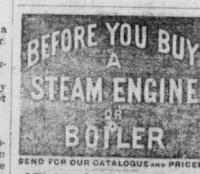

IN ARIZONA.

Always on Hand.

Contracts filled at Low Rates and promptly,

THE SILVER BELT

Has the largest bona fide circulation

ATLAS ENGINE WORKS, INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

ARCHITECTS & BUILDERS

A Edition of Scientific American.

A great success. Each issue ecotalins colored inhographic pinter of country and city residue, eas or public buildings. Numerous engraving and full plans and specifications for the one of greats as contemplate challenge. and full plans and specifications for the use spicking contemplate banding. Price $2.50 a year if ets. a copy. MENN & CO., Publications. TRADE MARKS. In case your mark is not registered in the Patent Unice, apply to Mr. N. a Co., and precure appellate protection, bend for Lagrange. impediate protection. Sees for his court, co